HUMAN RIGHTS POLICY

Protecting and respecting human dignity is central to our everyday business operations. We will conduct our businesses in a fair and equitable manner, meeting our social responsibilities as a direct and indirect employer and we will respect the human rights of all our stakeholders respecting the United Nations Declaration on Human Rights.

Black Mountain Mine will strive to:

- Be compliant with labour laws of the country in which we operate and ensure that our employees and business partners (contractors) are fairly and reasonably paid and remuneration structure is compliant with statutory obligations of the jurisdictions in which we operate;
- Promote fair working conditions and uphold human rights aligned with national regulations and international expectations and conventions;
- Do our utmost to avoid being complacent with adverse human rights impacts, including benefitting from the human rights violations caused by others;
- Include human rights-related requirements within contractual arrangements with business partners and host governments and carry out due diligence for tier 1 business partners;
- Include human rights due diligence into relevant business processes and before undertaking new acquisitions, activities or contractual engagements and all aspects of regular business operations;
- Conduct periodic human rights due diligence in business operations and implement corrective actions;
- Monitor and report on Human Rights impact and performance of management programs;
- Have zero tolerance for any form of forced, compulsory or child labour either directly or through business partners;
- Recognize and respect employee rights to associate freely and to collective bargaining, as appropriately directed by law;
- Be an equal opportunity employer and treat all employees with respect and dignity and judged solely on their performance irrespective of their race, religion, caste, gender, sexual orientation, age or disability;
- Respect and preserve the culture and heritage of local communities including socially vulnerable groups that may be impacted by our operations and work towards developing a constructive relationship with such groups;
- Work with government agencies to develop a common understanding and agreement to protect human rights in the event of unforeseen situations while protecting our people, equipment, and assets;
- Provide robust grievance mechanism for internal and external stakeholder to address issues of human right violation in operations;

Black Mountain will measure and report progress against this policy and review performance on a periodic basis.
